LIBRARY.

The improvements, for which provisions were made when Library Hall was purchased by the town, have, in the last two years, received the attention of the trustees, and the library room having been enlarged and in part refurnished, is, we believe, complete in its appointments and ample in its accommodations, while it affords adequate space and pleasant quarters for the free reading room, which has become an indispensable accession to the library itself. Moreover, the three thousand two hundred volumes of the library have, in the last twelve months, been newly classified and shelved, and excellently catalogued by a card system. This work was performed without expense to the town by Mrs. J. T. Woodbury, Mrs. C. E. Hopkins, Mrs. H. R. Hubbard Mrs. E. D. Stevens, and Miss Emma F. Bixby, all of whom have the well-earned thanks of the trustees, and, we trust, the gratitude of our reading public.
